ETF Investment Approach

The ETF invests primarily in equity securities of U.S. companies that the investment team believes will deliver superior long-term growth in revenues and earnings.

This strategy employs a proprietary combination of bottom-up, fundamental research and systematic portfolio construction to derive a portfolio of growth stocks that reflects a compelling combination of opportunity, valuation and risk.

The investment team's fundamental research seeks to identify large- and mid- capitalization companies that have superior prospects for long-term growth.

These companies typically possess a combination of the following characteristics:

- Structural competitive advantage.
- Industry leadership and innovation.
- Strong cash flow generation and reinvestment.
- Balance sheet strength.
- Experienced leadership able to execute on the business opportunity.

The investment team uses systematic portfolio construction to achieve characteristics and risk exposures consistent with the Fund's objective. Portfolio optimization tools are employed to incorporate the investment team's fundamental growth insights, considering diversification and liquidity risk.

Important Information

Investing involves risk, principal loss is possible. Unlike mutual funds, ETFs may trade at a premium or discount to their net asset value.

All investments involve risk including the possible loss of principal. There is no guarantee that the investment objective of the Fund will be achieved. Stock markets are volatile and equity values can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market and economic conditions. At times, a growth investing style may be out of favor with investors which could cause growth securities to underperform value or other equity securities. Since the Fund may hold foreign securities, it may be subject to greater risks than funds invested only in the U.S. These risks are more severe for securities of issuers in emerging market regions. A non-diversified Fund may invest a greater percentage of its assets in securities of a single issuer, and/or invest in a relatively small number of issuers, it is more susceptible to risks associated with a single economic, political or regulatory occurrence than a more diversified portfolio.

Diversification does not assure a profit or protect against loss in a declining market.

ETFs are subject to capital gains tax and taxation of dividend income. However, ETFs are structured in such a manner that taxes are generally minimized for the holder of the ETF. An ETF manager accommodates investment inflows and outflows by creating or redeeming “creation units,” which are baskets of assets. As a result, the investor usually is not exposed to capital gains on any individual security in the underlying portfolio. However, capital gains tax may be incurred by the investor after the ETF is sold.

Shares are bought and sold at market price not net asset value (NAV). Market price returns are based upon the closing composite market price and do not represent the returns you would receive if you traded shares at other times.
